2023 FUNDING PLAN

Capital City Film Festival

Project: CCFF will use grant dollars in support of events and projects presented during the 13th annual Capital City Film Festival in the spring of 2023 with 5,000 guests projected. The projects will feature engaging collaborations with the Womxn of Color Initiative, ReelAbilities Film Festival, and Lansing Symphony Orchestra.

Award: $10,500

Lansing 5:01

Project: Participants can explore the arts through a robust Lansing-based artisan village and musical performances, witness live art installation with chalk artists and muralists, and enjoy local culinary artists from area food trucks. This project will increase recreational opportunities via riverfront kayaking, activate urban spaces, showcase performing arts and cultural opportunities, and prove the importance of public spaces as place creation for attracting and retaining talent.

Award: $8,000

Lansing Art Gallery and Education Center

Project: ArtPath 2023 will provide a public art display in 20 sites featured along our historic Lansing River Trail between Memorial Day and Labor Day. This temporary, site-specific public art project is a partnership between Lansing Art Gallery & Education Center and the City of Lansing's Parks & Recreation Department. ArtPath connects 2.5 miles of artwork by Michigan artists throughout the city while creating awareness and enhancing the River Trail as a cultural attraction.

Award: $14,000

Lansing Matinee Musicale

Project: Michigan Opera Outreach is an opera education project based in the Greater Lansing Area. Our goal is to bring world-class music education to under-served and underfunded schools through a week long residency culminating in a public performance. Children in 3rd/4th grades will have the opportunity to engage in instruction with teaching artists and will create their own story and opera libretto to be performed.

Award: $8,833

Lansing Poetry Club

Project: The project will involve: 1) 10 creative writing workshops to engage and encourage residents to write about a special place, person, event or object within the Greater Lansing Area, 2) a writing competition open to residents within the Tri-County Area, 3) public readings by the winning writers, and 4) the publication of winning and notable entries in a book titled "My Secret Lansing."

Award: $5,245

Lansing Symphony Orchestra

Project: LSO's Neighborhood Concerts help connect Lansing residents with their community's orchestra. The Neighborhood Concerts consist of the Chamber Series, Concerts in the Park, Family Series, LSO @ The Robin, and several Pop-Up performances. As an alternative to the traditional concert hall setting, the performances are held in a variety of locations across Lansing. The concerts are presented at little or no cost for attendees, helping to make the symphony accessible to everyone in the community.

Award: $11,000

MICA

Project: MICA annually hosts the Jazz and Blues Festivals and operates MICA Gallery. The festival events expand over two days providing music locally to enthusiasts and via live stream/recorded tracks to those around the world. The gallery provides an exhibition venue to numerous artists. 2018 First Impressions Arts Impact Project

LANSING'S STORY (working title) is a large-scale visual art piece to be located in the heart of downtown Lansing. Using animation, sound effects, film and 3-D modeling, light installations will be projected onto prominent Lansing architecture, perfectly mapping the features of the building. The projection, created through new technology called video mapping or spatial augmented reality, will be several stories tall and nearly 5,000 square feet in total.

This lighted, animated, installation will be a spectacular and innovative addition to Lansing's physical landscape, adding a new dimension to Lansing's skyline throughout the entire year. Every night at the same time, the work will project iconic images from our past and present to tell Lansing's story, engaging residents, attracting tourists from near and far and inspiring the future of our community.

Art installations such as these connect the community to contemporary art and can be found on landmark buildings all over the world, including the Sydney Opera House, the Brooklyn Bridge and the UK Parliament Building. New Orleans also uses video-mapping technology to create light installations all across its city for its annual LUNA Fete, a unique festival of lights.

The project will leverage the technical expertise of the Capital City Film Festival, utilizing Lansing Public Media Center projection-equipment and the creative horsepower of Light Harvest Studios in New York City.
